Crediton Museum...

at The Old Town Hall in High Street began with an exhibition in 2009 to coincide with the 1100th anniversary of the founding of a cathedral in Crediton.

Open from Easter to October, and featuring a permanent and a different exhibition each year, the museum attracts over 1,500 visitors a year. No admission charge is made but donations are encouraged.

Despite the success of the museum, donations and modest sales from booklets and souvenirs fall well short of rental and other costs. Income from other sources is essential if the museum is to continue. Many similar organisations encourage Friends groups to assist in their work and raise funds and Crediton Museum would not exist without ours.

Please consider helping by becoming a Friend of Crediton Museum.

Thank you.
